One-Day Ashram At Methodist Church

A One-Day Ashram will be held at the Agawam Methodist Church, on Saturday morning,
Jan. 25, beginning at 10 and continuing until 4 in the afternoon.

The Ashram is one of many group movements which have arisen in modern times as a result of the desire to put back into the Christian Church the koinonia, or the fellowship, which is mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, the well-known and much-loved missionary, author, and evangelist, during his more than 50 years of service in India, observed the Indian Ashrams. Seeing much of value in the movement, he developed a Christian approach and has been instrumental in bringing it, first to this country, and now around the world.

The word itself is from the Sanskrit, and means "a retreat."
Under the leadership of a dedicated faculty, church people from many denominations meet together for a disciplined corporate that will make God more real in quest for deeper spiritual growth, one's daily living.

At Agawam the program will be under the general supervision of Mrs. George England, of Weymouth, and Mrs. Roy Robinson, of Marshfield. Rev. Alan H.
Moore, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Westfield, will lead the Bible Hour and Rev.
John Bankosky and Rev. John Hunn, co-pastors of The Covenant Presbyterian Church in Simsbury, Conn., will lead the Evangelist Hour.

Prayer groups are an important part of the Ashram and small numbers of people will meet in this way. There will be periods of sharing, when those who wish, may express their wants and needs; and at the close, state what help they have received.

Each one attending will take his own bag lunch. Tea, coffee, or milk will be provided. Reservations are not necessary. There is a registration fee of $1.

This is an unusual opportunity to enjoy the fellowship of Christian friends.

Registration and Coffee Hour will be from 9:30 to 10.

Decision Program

To Start Feb. 1

Mrs. James Sgorbati, town chairman, has announced that groups are now being organized to participate in the Great Decisions program. This is a nation wide program concerning itself with vital world issues. Group discussions will start the week of Feb. 2, for eight weeks.

Organizations, as well as individual groups are urged to participate. Anyone who would like to join a group, or organize a group either through an organization or privately is urged to call Mrs. Sgorbati, 1822 Main St., for further information.

Topics regarding Asia, Cuba, the Middleeast are three of the eight pertinent subjects to be discussed.

Feeding Hills, husband of Mrs.
Joan (Suski) Bouley, father of Edmund, Jr. and James Bouley, was held Wednesday, Jan. 15 from the Curran-Jones Funeral Home followed by a requiem high mass at Sacred Heart Church.
The Rev. George A. Linse, C.S.S., and the Rev. Richard Ahearn, C.S.S., were concelebrants. Bearers were Ernest Bouley, Jr., Francis Bouley, Jr., Michael De-
Christopher, Robert Choinere, Robert Couture and Richard Martin. Burial was in St. Thomas Cemetery with Fr. Linse offering the prayers of committal.

Westfield Savings Bank Declares Dividends Of Over One Million

WESTFIELD — Trustees of the Westfield Savings Bank, holding their quarterly meeting at the Storowton Tavern in West Springfield, Tuesday night declared dividends totaling a record $1,101,000, payable this month and bringing to an alltime high of $2,171,000 the dividends paid to savers during the past year.

Henry F. Burrows, chairman of the board, presided as the trustee declared dividends of 4½ percent on regular savings accounts and 5 percent on special notice accounts.

However, effective on the 10th new, higher rates will be available to savings depositors at the Westfield Savings Bank: 4 3/4 percent on regular savings accounts and 5 1/4 percent on special notice accounts. Dividends will be compounded quarterly beginning on Jan. 10, with the first quarterly dividend payable on April 10.

"Westfield Savings Bank has increased its dividends to savers consistently," said Arthur W. Knapp, president, "in line with the philosophy of the mutual savings bank system which returns its earnings to depositors."

Public response to the bank's dividend structure is indicated, Mr. Knapp said, by the record savings total of $49,319,068 on Dec. 31, 1968. This is an increase of $2,361,769 over the year-ago figure.

Real estate loans on December 31 totaled $43,159,503, also a record, reflecting a year's gain of $3,333,392, while the gain for the six months ended Dec. 31 was $1,153,461.

Westfield Savings' assets on Dec. 31 were $56,202,930.

Mr. Knapp told the trustees that Westfield Savings Bank experienced "an excellent 1968, and we anticipate that 1969 will be another successful year for the bank." The Agawam office, opened in mid-1968, has been well received and is contributing to the growth of the bank, he said.

such as donating food baskets several times throughout the year, helped with the local gun registration, worked in co-opera- tion with the town's senior citi- zens on several projects, hosted a Christmas party with 27 deserv- ing children as guests, and pat- tern a little girl in a local town.

The Agawam Jaycee-ettes have assisted the Jaycees with several of their projects — Halloween Parade, Christmas Tree Light- ing, and now are working on the Airshow for this spring.

Many of own townspeople will remember the Jaycee-ettes for their Forum on Patterning the mentally retarded. As a direct result of this successful project, there are five mentally retarded children in this locale being pat- terned, Dr. Marvin Bryan of Springfield, a certified educa- tional consultant for New England said, "I am deeply appre- ciable to the Agawam Jaycee- ettes for their significant role in facilitating a patterning program for these 5 children. They are a wonderful group of women."

In retrospect, the Jaycee-ettes of Agawam would like to extend their deepest thanks to all the townspeople for their support in so many of the projects run dur- ing the last two years.

Dear Editor: Should a father of fifty get married again?

Dear Reader: No, that's enough children for any man.

If you're sleuthing for clues to the right fashion look this season, it's elementary, my dear Watson—the trail leads right to tweed. Whether mini or maxi, tweeds are pleated and belted by leading designers like Stanley Nelson, whose handsome coat even borrows a shoulder cape straight from Sherlock Holmes himself!

Shown with dark ribbed stockings and fedora, the perfect tailoring and lasting eye appeal of this costume is assured by the designer's choice of a soft donegal tweed, bonded to Coin tricot. Your dry cleaner will tell you a COIN bonded fabric is a "no problem" fabric. That is, it holds the shape the designer intended, looks as well after many wearings as it did when you tried it on in the store. So it really makes sense to do a little sleuthing for a COIN hangtag on fashions you select for your own wardrobe this year.

Internal Revenue Service Official Questions-Answers

Q. I am a high school student with a part-time job. Do I have to file a Federal Income Tax Return?

A. In view of the fact that you haven't given me sufficient information to adequately answer your question, I will outline the general requirements as to who must file.

Every individual under 65 years of age who had gross income of $600 or more during the tax year.

If a taxpayer were 65 or older on the last day of 1968, no return is required unless he had gross income of $1,200 or more.

Individuals whose gross income was less than the amounts stated above should file to obtain a refund of any income tax withheld from his salary. Only by filing a return will it be possible to receive the refund.

Self employed persons whose net profit is $400 or more should file even though the gross income was less than $600 ($1,200 if 65 or older).

Q. I have a W-2 from my employer and I do not have a tax form. Where can I secure one?

A. Every taxpayer who filed a return last year should have received a form through the mail. However, if you are in need of any forms you should call or telephone your nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Q. At my place of employment there is a lot of discussion as to who can and who cannot file a joint return. Will you square me away for once and for all as to just who may file a joint return?

A. Individuals who as of the last day of the taxable year (December 31 for most taxpayers) are:

Married and living together.
Married and living apart but not divorced or legally separated.
Separated under an interlocutory decree of divorce.

If your spouse died during the tax year, you are considered to have been married for the entire year. If you did not remarry during the tax year, you may file a joint return for yourself and your deceased spouse.

Q. I am just a bit confused as to whether I can file on a Form 1040A which you people call a short form or the 1040 long form. Would you kindly tell me who is permitted to use the little card—Form 1040A? Also, does a 1040A allow any deductions at all?

A. In answering the first part of your question let me say that any citizen or resident who had less than $10,000 total income, consisting of wages subject to withholding tax and not more than $200 income from other wages, dividends, and interest can use Form 1040A.

If husband and wife file a joint 1040A, then combined income cannot exceed the above amounts. Form 1040A cannot be used by taxpayers who itemize deductions or who claim special exclusions or credits such as: sick pay exclusion, retirement income credit or special tax rates for those who qualify as Head of Household or Surviving Spouse.

In answering your other question — yes, the computation of tax on Form 1040A includes $600 for each exemption and the 10% standard deduction or minimum standard deduction. The tax tables for income under $5,000 automatically includes exemption and standard deductions.

Q. My income is between $5000 and $10,000. How do I compute the 10% standard deduction or minimum standard deduction?

A. The 10% standard deduction is 10% of your Adjusted Gross Income. (Line 7 of Form 1040A, or line 9 of Form 1040).

The minimum standard deduction is computed as follows:

$200 plus $100 for each exemption claimed except for married persons filing separate returns—$100 plus $100 for each exemption.

Computed under either method, the standard deduction may not exceed $1,000 ($500 each for married persons filing separate returns).

Q. Will you clarify this problem for me? If my husband and I file separate returns can he claim the 10% standard deduction and I claim the minimum standard?

A. No — Husband and wife filing separate returns must use the same type of standard deduction. If one spouse claims the 10% standard deduction, the other must also.

The most famous incense is the resin that exudes through the bark of the myrrh and frankincense trees of southern Arabia, the Mass. Audubon Society tells us. It was used by ancient civilizations (Babylonia, Egypt, Greece, Rome) for bathing, religious ceremonies, embalming and medicine; it was as important then as is oil today.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By BILL CHIBA

Boston's two top baseball stars will share the spotlight during the concluding week-end of New England Sportsmen's & Camping Show which opened for 9 days on Saturday, Jan. 18 in Boston's War Memorial Auditorium.

Carl Yastrzemski will join team-mate Ken Harrelson for appearances at the stage and water show on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 25 and 26. Harrelson is being featured daily throughout the nine-day show.

The two stars will demonstrate ball playing tips, answer queries and sign autographs. This is the first time that two outstanding sports celebrities have been featured simultaneously at the big stage and water show. The duo will make four appearances on Saturday and two on Sunday, the final day.

It is estimated that more than 300,000 persons will pass through the doors of the War Memorial Auditorium in Boston's Prudential Center to visit this huge mecca of all the new 1969 sporting gear for fisherman, hunter, camper and other sportsmen. The entire second floor of the auditorium is devoted to a complete camping show with trailers, tents, mobile homes and all types of camping accessories.

The show is open daily this week from 1 to 11 p.m. except Saturday when doors open at 11 a.m. The show will close at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 26.

INTERNATIONAL BOAT SHOW

The 1969 International Boat Show will be held in Boston's War Memorial Auditorium from Feb. 8 through 16th.

This big nautical spectacle, sponsored by New England Marine Trade Assn., will bring all the top names of the boating industry to Boston, one of the major regional markets in the U. S.

The entire two floors of the War Memorial Auditorium in the $100,000,000 Prudential Center will be devoted to boats, engines and marine accessories exclusively. All these exhibits are sponsored by leading American and foreign manufacturers.

The show is coordinated by Sherman Expositions which also direct such big spectacles as the successful International Auto Show, New England Home Show, Miami Auto Show, and N. E. Sportsmen's & Camping Show.

SPORTSMEN FORTUNATE

When Francis W. Sargent became Governor of Mass. Jan. 20, he holds the distinction of being the first professional conservationist to hold the highest office in this Commonwealth.

Sportsmen are well acquainted with "Sarge," for his credits include one highly successful year as Director of the Mass. Div. of Fisheries and Game prior to his appointment as Cmdr. of the Dept. of Public Works and later elected to the office of Lt. Gov. under Gov. John A. Volpe.

During his term as Cmdr. of DPW, Sarge continued to champion the causes of conservation in Mass. He insisted upon the implementation of policies that would protect and enhance the heritage of our natural resources.

Frank Sargent is a participant as well as a leader. Until governmental duties severely restricted his time, he was known as the angler who always caught the first striped bass of the season on Cape Cod. As Lt. Governor he has managed to find occasional hours for hunting and fishing. Because of his continued activity in the conservation field he enjoys a first-name relationship with the foremost sportsmen of the northeast.

Gov. Sargent may face difficult problems during the next two years, but to outdoorsmen who have known him since the days when he guided the destinies of a tiny mid-Cape sporting goods shop—and found time to fight their battles in Boston—the odds are long that he'll succeed.

PLAN YOUR ATTACK

Fishing, like football, requires a bit of strategy. And a good job of "double-teaming" will work just as well on bashful bass as it does on a bruising fullback.

Since many fishing hours are consumed in finding the right combination of lure and fishing depth on a particular day, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, the use of and teamwork is highly recommended.

Before casting off from the dock, spend a few minutes in a skull-session with your partner. Discuss the "playing field"—its bays, rocky points, weed beds, dropoffs, etc. How is the weather likely to affect the fish? And what are the scouting reports of yesterday's anglers?

As the plan of attack is mapped out, each man is given a specific assignment. In a boat, it's usually a case of "you hit 'em high and I'll hit 'em low."

If the waters are strange and you're in the fish-finding stage, you'll probably elect to troll. With two men, both the shallow and middle, or middle and lower depths can be tested simultaneously. The inshore angler works the shallower level, while the offshore rod probes deeper—an efficient, hour-saving arrangement.

When fish are known to be in a certain spot, different combinations of lures should be tried: floaters and sinkers, spoons and plugs . . . even various colors of the same lure.

"Ganging up" in this manner may often cut experimenting and prospecting almost in half, note the Mercury lads. The only rule is that two different approaches should be used at the same time.

Instead of copying your partner's choice of lure, snap on what might be his next selection.

"Many tombstones are carved by chiseling in traffic."

Treatment at March of Dimes Center Enables Girl to Throw Away Crutches

Patty Bruce, 7, of Pontiac, Mich., crippled since birth by a severe spinal birth defect, learned by happy accident when she was little more than three years old that she could walk without braces or crutches.

It was a hot summer day and her mother had set aside Patty's crutches, removed the braces from her legs and stood the pretty little blonde in a neighbor's backyard wading pool. "It was like a miracle," Mrs. Bruce recalls. "She began to walk right through the water."

After that day, Patty, who was born with leg-paralyzing open spine and deformities of both feet, practiced and exercised until she needed neither braces nor crutches on dry land. If there is a miracle in her story, however, it has nothing to do with the water.

Dr. Donita B. Sullivan, director of the March of Dimes-financed Birth Defects Center at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, explained, "With proper physical therapy and other treatment over a period of time, children like Patty often develop enough muscle power to walk without the support of braces."

Today, for a girl who had such a slow start, Patty can do a swinging job with a hoola hoop. But life has been a long, uphill struggle.

Patty's fight to live like children born free of handicaps began in Pontiac when she came into the world prematurely, weighing only 3½ pounds. She was the first of fraternal twins, and her brother, Mike, was also born with a birth defect.

Doctors detected a heart murmur in the lad, indicating possible congenital heart defects, and have been seeing him once a year since birth.

Patty's condition required immediate attention. When she was three months old, she was taken to the Birth Defects Center in Ann Arbor where neurosurgeons performed corrective surgery on her back. After that, her deformed feet were treated, first with casts, then with braces and now with exercise only. The little girl has returned to the March of PATTY BRUCE, 7, Pontiac, Mich., may sound sound to her twin brother, Mike, but she was born with an open spine and can't walk so well. Mike has no problem walking, but he was born with heart defects. With them is Dr. Donita B. Sullivan, director of the March of Dimes-financed Birth Defects Center at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Dimes Center four or five times a year since her operation for continuing treatment and checkups.

According to Dr. Sullivan, Patty may need urologic surgery sometime in the future. As a result of the open spine, the little girl cannot control her bladder or bowels.

Through the years much of Patty's therapy has been received at home. One of her favorite means of exercise is a rocking horse. Mrs. Bruce points out, also, that brother Mike has a lot to do with Patty's success in learning to walk. "She always watched him and tried to copy him."

Patty has learned to walk well, but she is not yet able to walk normally. She still tends to toe in.

"One day she came home from school and said one of her classmates called her pigeon-toed," Mrs. Bruce says. "Well, I just smiled and told her not to mind. I am just so happy that she can walk at all."

Since that hot summer day several years ago when Patty took her first unaided step, the Bruce family have installed a new fixture in their backyard. Right in the middle is a very large children's wading pool.

N.E. Camper-Trailer Show Set At Suffolk Downs, Jan. 22-27

BOSTON — Upwards of 20,000 square feet of display space will be converted into an outdoorsmen's paradise in the giant, all-enclosed clubhouse, Suffolk Downs, East Boston, during the third annual New England Camper and Trailer Show, Jan. 22-27.

More than 500 recreational vehicles from all parts of the United States will be displayed during the mammoth six-day exposition, including the largest display of trailers ever assembled under one roof in the New England area. In addition, the newest and best in tents and camping accessories will be exhibited.

Overall, there will be 65% increase in the number of exhibits as compared to a year ago, according to Show Director Edward M. Flanagan.

"Camping is no longer just a summer activity; it's a year round proposition for thousands upon thousands of families," added Flanagan, noting that a large number of ski enthusiasts have been attracted to the show in the past. Since the coming show is substantially larger than a year ago, Flanagan expects a comparable increase in attendance over the record-breaking crowds of last year.

Travel trailers are now equipped with all the basic necessities of any home—heat, plumbing and cooking facilities. In addition,

Washington Joseph V. Barr will serve only one month as secretary of the Treasury, but he will leave behind more than 100 million $1 bills carrying his signature.

The Treasury Department announced it will produce "a minimum of 100 million" of the $1 Federal Reserve notes with Mr. Barr's signature. Production will continue until others are ready to roll with the signature of Secretary of the Treasury-Designate David M. Kennedy.

V.F.W. Post 1632 and Auxiliary Bulletin

By ANNA D. BISSONNETTE

WITH SYMPATHY

Many friends and members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries were present at Curran and Jones for the Military Ritual on Sunday, Jan. 19, for Thomas Murphy of the Barcomb-Trowbridge Post #6741 of West Springfield. Attending from Agawam Post #1632 were Wilfred H. Bissonnette, Edward Harpin, James Hayes, Raymond Negrucci and Gus Hocker.

Death is but a stepping stone, To that eternal life, In which there's NO unhappiness, NO suffering or strife. And so Tom Murphy IS at peace, And lives ON in a place, WHERE there is light and gladness,

And will see GOD face to face. Many shall miss him and we'll remember all the good he has done.

Past Cmdr. Tom Dickinson not well after a fall; Ida Bondi still in West Springfield Nursing Home, Westfield St., W. Springfield, Mass.; Jim Stellato's parents still ailing but Mary feeling much better.

SAVE A DATE

Attending the Western County Council Auxiliary V.F.W. meeting Sunday, Jan. 19 at 2:30 p.m. at the William F. Davitt Post Home on Front St., Chicopee, were Betty Mae Curran and Anna D. Bissonnette, representatives from the Agawam Auxiliary. NEXT meeting will be Sunday, Feb. 23th, 2:30 p.m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home, Main St., Amherst, Mass. Will YOU be going?

In order to hold more activities for the AHS students, the Student Council is sponsoring a Winter Carnival on Feb. 20-22. During the day there will be a snow sculpture contests and snowball fights between classes. Sleigh rides will be featured Thursday night. Friday night there will be a basketball game and a dance will be held on Saturday night to end the Carnival.

Committees for the Carnival are working on the final plans for the week-end. The event will be non-profit, and we hope that all AHS students will attend the week-end and enjoy themselves.

RUSSIAN

Opportunities at Agawam High School are numerous, and one of them is learning Russian. Miss Stone, who majored in Russian, has begun teaching interested Menu for Friday, Jan. 24th will be steamed clams, New England style clam chowder, tuna club sandwiches with cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and french fries. SAVE THIS DATE. Anna Hayes and Anna Bissonnette will be happy to serve you there.

Hospital Chairman Betty Curran announced that a letter arrived thanking ALL who participated in any way at the hospitals. It said, in part, "YOU are to be commended for the many Christmas activities. Your personal service and generous donations contributed greatly to the morals of our veterans during the Holiday Season. With your support and participation our Patient Personalized Gift Program was completely successful. Sixty volunteers helped wrap the gifts and 20 volunteers distributed gifts on Christmas Eve."

On Jan. 23rd, there will be a CARNIVAL sponsored by the V.F.W. Western County Council Auxiliary. On Jan. 27th, there will be a VARIETY SHOW sponsored by the Massachusetts Elks Association. WE NEED MORE VOLUNTEERS!! HOW ABOUT YOU? Got any spare time?

Feb. 14th is Valentine Day—Get your husband or wife a membership card in the V.F.W. Post #1632 or its Auxiliary.

February is also "Heart Month" — Are YOU ready to help? Remember, many hands make light work. Cmdr. Harpin also announced that "French Night" is coming up in February. Date to be announced later... HERE.

students the language. Each Monday and Thursday after school the students attend a class which will give them the advantage of learning a new and different language. Good luck to you who are learning Russian.

COMING EVENTS: Model Congress delegates have drawn up their bill to be presented in March at AIC... Operetta rehearsals in full swing... Yearbook staff is preparing for remaining deadlines.

Two expectant fathers were nervously pacing the floor in the waiting room of a maternity hospital. "What tough luck," grumbled Jack. "This had to happen during my vacation."

"You think you've got troubles?" replied John. "I'm on my honeymoon."

Q. I am 62 years old and thinking of retiring. My wife is only 56 and we have a son 15. Someone told my wife that she and my son can collect Social Security benefits also when I retire. Is this true? My wife doesn't work.

A. Yes, this is correct. We may pay benefits to your wife and son, until your son is age 18. At 18, benefits will be stopped, unless your son continues his education, then benefits can be paid until age 22 for him, as long as he remains a full-time student in an accredited school. Your wife could again start receiving benefits at age 62.

Q. I was involved in an accident early this month and will be unable to work for at least a year, according to my doctor. I was employed for over 9 years before this accident. Can I file for disability benefits and if yes, when should I do it?

A. According to the information you have supplied in your letter, you should file as soon as possible. Benefits are not payable until after a person has been disabled for 6 full months. Filing early and obtaining necessary medical information for the claim, will help insure payments to you as soon as the six months waiting period is up.

Q. How disabled must a widow be to qualify for benefits under the new amendments?

A. Under the new law, a severely disabled widow can receive benefits if she has a physical or mental impairment that would be severe enough to keep her from performing any gainful work, and her impairment has lasted, or is expected to last a year or more.

Q. I am a 53-year old widow. My husband died in August of 1963. I can't work because I have a heart condition since May of 1965.

A. If your heart condition is severe enough to prevent you from doing any type of work, you may be eligible for disabled widow's benefits.
